Wk2_Quarter 1 Grade Reflection

Create a drawing for the following prompt:

"Imagine a path that represents your journey through this quarter in art class. On this path, draw symbols, scenes, or objects that represent your challenges, successes, and any changes you'd like to make for next quarter. Your path can include obstacles, milestones, and a destination that shows your goal for the next report card."

Answer the questions in Artsonia:

1. What were the biggest challenges you faced this quarter that impacted your grade, and how did you try to overcome them?
2. What habits or strategies helped you succeed or might have contributed to your struggles, and what could you improve upon for next quarter?
3. What specific goals or actions can you set for yourself to improve or maintain your grade for the upcoming quarter?

Criteria : (50 points)

- Artwork is creative and original
- Artwork fills the 5.5 x 8.5 paper thoughtfully
- Contour Drawing
- Craftsmanship
- Questions are answered in complete sentences.

Due: Monday 11-28-24

Symbolic Ideas Students Can Incorporate Into Their Paths To Represent Challenges They Encountered:

Rocks or Boulders – Represent obstacles that made their progress more difficult, like time management or specific art skills.

Storm Clouds – Symbolize moments of frustration, discouragement, or setbacks they faced during projects or assignments.

Puzzles or Locks – Reflect things they found confusing or difficult to understand, like new art concepts or techniques.

Hills or Mountains – Represent larger, ongoing challenges they had to climb, such as balancing schoolwork with personal responsibilities.

Traffic Signs (like "Stop" or "Yield") – Indicate places where they felt slowed down, such as by needing more practice or extra help.

A Maze – Shows a time they felt lost or unsure of the direction they were going with their work or understanding.

A Broken Pencil or Eraser Shavings – Represent moments of frustration with drawing skills, like mistakes or things they had to redo.

Closed Door – Could represent times when they felt limited or blocked, whether by their own skills or external factors.

Fog or Darkness – Symbolizes feeling uncertain, overwhelmed, or unmotivated at points throughout the quarter.

Symbolic Ideas Students Can Incorporate Into Their Paths To Represent Success They Encountered:

Stars or Trophies – Represent achievements, like completing a project well or learning a new skill.

Sunshine or a Rainbow – Symbolize positive breakthroughs, like moments of clarity or enjoyment in their artwork.

Flower or Tree Growth – Reflect personal growth, skill improvement, or progress in understanding concepts.

Open Door – Represents new opportunities or understanding, such as mastering a technique or discovering a new interest.

Footprints – Show steady progress and persistence, even when facing challenges.

Compass – Symbolizes finding direction or gaining confidence in their artistic choices.

Bridge – Represents overcoming a challenge or connecting different skills learned throughout the quarter.

Thumbs-Up or Checkmark – Symbolize completion of a task or project with satisfaction.

Bird in Flight – Shows a sense of freedom, creativity, or confidence gained in their work.

Light Bulb – Represents moments of inspiration, new ideas, or creative problem-solving.

Symbolic Ideas Students Can Incorporate Into Their Paths To Represent Changes They Hope To Make For The Next Quarter:

Compass or Map – Represents a sense of direction and intention for staying on a clear path toward their goals.

Butterfly or Caterpillar – Symbolizes personal growth and transformation, especially if they want to improve in certain areas.

Bridge Under Construction – Shows a desire to build connections or improve areas where they feel incomplete or less confident.

New Pathway or Fork in the Road – Represents making a new choice or taking a different approach to reach better outcomes.

Seedling or Sapling – Symbolizes the beginning of new habits, skills, or behaviors they want to grow over time.

Compass Rose – Represents navigating new strategies or staying focused on their goals as they move forward.

Open Book – Shows a readiness to learn more, stay curious, or practice new techniques.

Hourglass or Clock – Reflects a desire to better manage time or stay on task with projects.

Eraser – Represents letting go of past mistakes or reworking their approach for a fresh start.

Anchor – Symbolizes a need for stability or grounding, perhaps by setting consistent habits or staying more organized.
